Notes: Our 'Dark Wave' red wine is an homage to Passetoutgrains. We were lucky to work with our friends at Marin Estate, which is owned and operated by Javier Marin (who has farmed many of the top sites in the area) and his two sons. The grapes fermented 100% wholecluster, outdoors, in one-ton insulated fermenters with daily pumpovers for one month. After pressing, the wine rested in a mix of Oregon and French oak for 10 months before being racked to tank and bottled without fining or filtration. In the glass you'll find aromas of sanguine red and blue fruits mixed with violets, crushed chalk and tobacco.
